

Idioms

I'm all ears
You have ants in your pants
It's going to cost an arm and a leg
You're barking up the wrong tree
I've got a bone to pick
He's like a bull in a china shop
He made it by the skin of his teeth
Open up a can worms
He has cold feet
She feeling down in the dumps
You better grab the bull by its horns
His head is in the clouds
She has a heart of gold
That's a horse of a different color
She's in the doghouse tonight
Don't jump the gun
He went out on a limb
That's a piece of cake
Are you pulling my leg?
Don't rock the boat
She's feeling blue
He feels like a fish out of water
I'm going around in circles
He has to walk on eggshells around her
It's written all over your face
She's the apple of my eye
It's raining cats and dogs
He let the cat out of the bag
You're skating on thin ice
You're on the right track
It's nothing to write home about
Don't bury your head in the sand
He's head over heels in love
Don't add fuel to the fire
We're all in the same boat
There's no use beating a dead horse
Bite your tongue!
He's lost his head
Keep an eye on him
Break a leg
I don't want to be a third wheel
He wears his heart on his sleeve

* Check out 'Symphony in Slang' on YouTube