

Sensory Poems

By Alyxandra Johnson

Loneliness is blue.

It sounds like a quiet room.

It smells like onions.

It tastes like dark chocolate.

It looks like someone frowning at you.

Loneliness feels like being picked last.

Love is orange.

It sounds scary.

It smells like a rose.

It tastes like chocolate.

It looks like a kiss.

Love feels smooth.